SketchUp 2018 Pro review: pros and cons SketchUp is software for 3D modeling. SketchUp's most prominent difference from competitors is that it has three modes of creation. Q: Tensorflow: How to build my own LSTM network? Tensorflow documentation does not help me here, I have found the following website: It shows this interesting LSTM network (I don't understand the part where it seems to use both LSTM and FC layers). But I don't see how to build such a network with Keras/Tensorflow. A: The author's explanation is completely right. Because it's not easy to build LSTM or fully connected layers manually without using Keras for a NN model. But instead of above post, you can use the class diagram: The comment from the site is: What is VD? I find the use of VD very confusing. I would guess it stands
